KUHO HERE TO CLOSE CAMPAIGN

Party Arrives from Hawaii Declaring Absolute Confidence in Results

Expressing absolute confidence that Delegate Kuhio will sweep Maui and Hawaii by a considerably larger majority over Link McCandless than two years ago, Territorial Chairman R. W. Shingle, the Rev. S. L. Desha, W. T. Rawlins, and the delegate himself arrived this morning on the Mauna Loa from Hawaii, to wind up the Republican campaign with meetings on this island.

No such enthusiasm has been displayed for years as was in evidence on this trip, according to the campaigners. Desha declared this morning that the prince will run far ahead of his vote of two years ago. Making allowance for all the party enthusiasm and natural exaggeration, it is quite evident that the prince and his party feel entirely confident of the results of the election so far as the outside islands are concerned.

"Wherever I held meetings," said Kuhio after his return today, "I found the people, especially the Hawaiians, very much interested in my remarks and particularly with reference to governmental affairs here at home."

Before boarding the Mauna Loa at Kailua, the prince was requested by the people to Kailua to speak to them, and he made a brief address at the boat-landing. Judge J. K. A. Kauai kou presided.

R. W. Shingle, chairman of the Territorial central committee, is happy over the results of the trip and very glad that the prince's illness was of short duration and he was able to finish his trip.

"You may say for me and for the party that the prince will get an enormous vote on Maui and Hawaii," declared Shingle this morning. "He is an overwhelming favorite. That Hilo meeting was a revelation."

Desha says that the outcome of the fight for the delegateship is already settled in the prince's favor so far as the outside islands are concerned. "He will get a bigger vote than ever before," prophesied the Hilo orator.

Desha says that Kuhio's illness, though short, was serious. "When he got to Hilo he was so weak he had to be helped to a car and taken to my home, and for two or three nights his condition was serious. However, he mended rapidly and was able to finish his trip in good shape."

Kuhio may make two speeches tonight at Republican meetings, one at Luso and Punchbowl streets, and the other at Waipahu at the big G. O. P. rally there.

CHILD DROWNS IN ABANDONED WELL

Falling into an abandoned well located on Sheridan street the little six year old Chinese girl named Ah Lum met death through drowning about seven o'clock last evening.

Coroner Charles Rose today empaneled a jury who held an inquiry concerning the demise of the little one.

According to the story related to the officers, the little Chinese girl residing with her parents in a tenement on Sheridan street was last seen playing with a small brother and a sister, near the home, shortly after five o'clock yesterday afternoon. At six o'clock the two children returned home and reported to their parents that the little girl could not be found. A search was immediately instituted while the neighbors summoned the police.

After about one hour spent in making diligent inquiries, the mother looked down into the well. Using a long pole, she reached down into the water, and her quest was rewarded by the sight of the body of the child that had just arisen to the surface.

Coroner Rose took charge of the remains pending the inquest.

Roosevelt's Would-be Assassin; Speech That Stopped Bullet, And Wounded Man

ROOSEVELT'S SHOOTING IS VOTE-GETTER

Washington Observers Realize Sudden Veering of Sentiment Toward Colonel

BY C. S. ALBERT.

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.—The attempted assassination of Col. Theodore Roosevelt has added many thousands of votes to the number he will receive November 5. Sentiment and sympathy caused an immediate tide-turning in his direction. The undecided and those easily influenced by the dramatic and spectacular leap from the fence and espoused the Bull Moose cause.

Politicians of all factions frankly admit that the Roosevelt vote has been enormously increased because of the attack made upon him in Milwaukee. His friends and managers declare the drift toward him will be sufficient to achieve his election. This conclusion is disputed by the Republicans and Democrats. No conservative man really thinks Col. Roosevelt can be elected, even with the material aid afforded by the physical assault upon him.

That the effect of the shooting of Col. Roosevelt is going to increase his vote enormously is admitted by politicians of every stripe. The friends of the colonel are predicting it will result in his election. His enemies are not denying that it has given an impetus to his cause the strength of which they cannot fathom and which it will require the casting of the ballots November 5 to calculate.

DELEGATE PUTS BAN ON HIS PAINTED LIKENESS

Canvas Sign on Fort Street Must Come Down, Is Kuhio's Ultimatum

Delegate Kuhio took just one look this morning at the gaudy, painted canvas hanging above the First National Bank entrance, portraying an alleged likeness of himself and of Col. Sam Parker and carrying the names of the various Republican nominees. The delegate had arrived from his trip to Maui and Hawaii and that was the first intimation he had of the presence of the campaign portrait.

"Cut down that portrait or I will have my men go there and cut it down," was what the prince said after taking that first look.

Angry! The prince resembled anything but the placid individual who strolls from his office in the Kapiolani block down toward the spot where congenial spirits are wont to congregate in the afternoon. He was sore

SELF-DEFENSE THEORY TRIED IN HENRIQUES MURDER CASE

In an effort to establish a theory of self-defense for John Gomes Henriques, now on trial before Circuit Judge Whitney on a charge of first-degree murder, the prisoner's counsel this morning introduced Dr. H. L. Ross, of South Kona, who was called to the scene of the fracas at Napo-poo, Hawaii, between the Henriques family and the Japanese to attend the wounded combatants.

He testified that a knife wound received by Jose Henriques, father of enough to climb up a telephone pole and pull down the canvas himself. His ultimatum is that the individuals responsible for the enormity in the name of campaign art must get the painted child of a misguided fancy down as quickly as possible or he, Kuhio, will start something.

Walter Doyle, the smiling publicity agent of the Republican organization, pleads not guilty, but there are those in the secret who say that Doyle has been quite proud of the idea and some have even accused him of painting the two portraits.

At any rate, it looks as if the sign, which has become quite an attraction to tourists in the past week, will have to come down. In that case, the county attorney's office will have no more of the visitors who climb the stairs and want to buy their way into what they suppose it is a side-show with a couple of eat-em-alives rattling their chains—all for a dime, ten cents, the twentieth part of a dollar.

CAPT. BERGER DECORATED BY HIS EMPEROR

Service-Cross Given Bandmaster for Long Work in His Adopted Country

Capt. Henry Berger, veteran bandmaster and maker of music in Hawaii for four decades, has been decorated by Emperor Wilhelm with the gold service-cross that is one of the most prized of the German decorations. The news of the honor has reached the German consulate here, and announcement saying:

"It has pleased His Imperial and Royal Majesty the German Emperor, by edict, dated September 12, 1912, to confer the Gold Service-Cross upon the bandmaster, Heinrich Berger, of Honolulu."

Capt. Berger is now upon an extended leave of absence from Hawaii. He has been visiting in Germany and Europe and will return here by the first of December, when his leave expires. He has been honored because of distinguished service to his adopted country, the United States, of which he has been a subject since the days when Hawaii became a territory.

Capt. Berger's friends here are deeply pleased with the honor conferred upon him by the German Emperor and will welcome him home in a few weeks.

Captain Berger entered the Prussian Second Foot Guards at Potsdam, Berlin, on December 1, 1862, as a musician, and saw active service during the Austro-Prussian war of 1866, and the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-1871. He came to Honolulu in 1872 on a five-years' leave of absence and detailed to organize a military band for the Hawaiian king. He returned to Berlin before the five years were up and re-entered the Prussian service, but was immediately called back by the Hawaiian government and took his discharge from the German army, applying for and acquiring Hawaiian citizenship soon after.

He has been celebrating this year his fortieth anniversary as leader of the Hawaiian Band, and on October 1 last, that of his entering the Prussian army fifty years ago. The decoration was given him for his faithful and efficient services, both to his fatherland and to his adopted country.

TAX ASSESSOR UNDER FIRE ON MAHUKA FIGURES

Deputy Tax Assessor A. W. Neely, who testified yesterday in Federal court that he valued the Office Supply Company site at $37,775 in December, 1910, on cross examination this morning by Attorney Olson admitted he had assessed the same property at $22,000 in January, 1911, a month later than the date selected for his original figure. He further testified that on January 1 of the present year he had assessed the property at $39,600. Tax Assessor C. T. Wilder this morning made an estimate of the same site, setting his figure at $32,355. J. M. Dowsett today was called to the witness stand in the Mahuka site case to give facts concerning the sale of portions of the property, and asserted that in January, 1908 a one-ninth interest had been sold at public auction for $3,000. He told of two later sales of other shares of the property, which he said went for still higher prices proportionately, due to the fact the real estate values were advancing that year.

DRASTIC AUTO ORDINANCE NOT TO BE PRESSED

Supervisor Murray will probably withdraw the Fort street automobile ordinance at tonight's meeting of the board. Instead of the ordinance a resolution is likely to be adopted setting a time limit on automobiles on Fort and other streets in the business section. Mr. Murray said as much as the foregoing indicates in a talk with a Star-Bulletin reporter this afternoon. "There was a meeting of the police committee yesterday," he stated, "which Deputy County Attorney Milverton and E. C. Peters, attorney for the merchants, attended, when a compromise was practically agreed on making a time limit for Fort street instead of forbidding autos to stand there at all. "Then Mr. Milverton gave the opinion that the object might be gained by a regulation under the old law relating to the reasonable use of the streets. "This would practically put it up to the police department to prevent the abuse complained of, and the board will back the department up with a resolution setting a time limit. "It is proposed to make a time limit of fifteen minutes for autos to stand on Fort street, also on Hotel street between Bishop and Bethel streets, and a time limit of thirty minutes for the section between Nuanu and Alakea streets and between Beretania and Queen streets, outside of Fort street."

down, completely covering the track and thus blocking traffic. The trouble occurred during the night and as the result the passenger trains ran to each side of the obstruction and the occupants of the cars walked around and took the train on the opposite side. The obstructions were cleared away shortly after noon and the regular schedule resumed.
